Rubric:

Each subproblem is worth 5 points. There are exactly 20 subproblems, each has a [5] next to it and therefore the authors believe it has similar levels of effort required.

For each, you will receive points based on the following scale:

5 points – You achieve the correct answer (or very close to it)

3 points – You had the right idea, but did not answer the question correctly

1 point – You attempted the problem, but did not get far
